

ELEC 4907: Tom Smy
4154 Mac
tjs@doe.carleton.ca

Engineering Physics student projects are available please enquire by email.

For electrical students various group projects addressing the use of numerical methods for the analysis of optical, electrical and heat flow problems are available. The requirements are for a strong background in programming, math and the students are expected to take ELEC 4506 as background for the projects.